182 DECALVES (Don Alonzo). New Travels to the Westward, or Unknown Parts of Columbia. Being a tour of fourteen months upward of 2,000 miles west of the known parts of North Columbia [America], with an account of the White Indians, their Habits, etc. Greenwich, Mass., 1805.

16mo, pp. 46. Paper, uncut edges; slightly torn, but can be repaired.

 A rare pamphlet.

183 DeHASS (Wills). History of the Early Settlement and Indian Wars of Western Virginia; embracing an account of the various expeditions in the West previous to 1795. Also, biographical sketches of Col. Ebenezer Zane, Major Samuel M'Colloch, Lewis Wetzel, Genl. Andrew Lewis, Genl. Daniel Brodhead, Capt. Samuel Brady, Col Wm. Crawford; and other distinguished actors in our Border Wars. Illustrated by Numerous Engravings.
Wheeling, 1851.

8vo, pp. 416+4, plates and folding plan. Half brown levant morocco, gilt top. Beautiful copy, with autograph letter and numerous cuttings inserted.

 This most valuable work is not a mere compilation of facts, but a history drawn from sources original and reliable. The author says "all statements of doubtful authority have been discarded, and no evidence received but that of the most unquestionable character." A distinctive feature of the work will be found in Part VII, containing biographical sketches of some of the most prominent actors in the border wars.

8vo, pp. 288. Half maroon morocco, gilt top.

 Illustrated by portraits of Denny and General Harmar, and six plans including a view of the Maumee Towns destroyed by General Harmar, and plan of Battle ground. This work forms a valuable addition to the details connected with Harmar's disastrous campaign, and St. Clair's defeat.

187 DESCHWEINITZ (Edmund). The Life and Times of David Zeisberger, the Western Pioneer and Apostle of the Indians.

Philadelphia, 1871.

8vo, pp. 747. Half calf, gilt top, uncut edges.

 The name of Zeisberger has remained comparatively unknown, although he deserves a most prominent place in history; in Loskiel's and Heckewelder's Histories of the Moravian Mission among the Indians, he is a leading character, and much may be learned from these volumes concerning his labors.

191 DODDRIDGE (Joseph) Notes on the Settlement and Indian Wars of the Western Parts of Virginia and Pennsylvania, from the year 1763 until the year 1783, inclusive. Together with a View of the State of society and manners of the first settlers of the Western Country. Wellsburg, Va., 1824.

16mo, pp. v–316. Brown levant morocco, inside borders, gilt edges.

 Rare. This is one of the original authorities, and scarcely a subsequent production relating to Indian Wars, can be picked up, that does not give extracts, or make assertions based on "Doddridge's Notes," and most frequently without acknowledgment of the source from which their valuable item is taken. This work and "Wither's Chronicles," a work of like character and equal merit, have long been considered of primary importance in collections of books relating to America, and especially to those relating to the Ohio Valley; this constant demand has rendered them very scarce, and only to be had at a high figure.

203 DRAKE (Daniel). Notices concerning Cincinnati. By Daniel Drake.

Cincinnati: Printed for the author, at the Press of John W. Browne & Co. 1810.

8vo, pp. 60+Appendix, pp. iv. Red levant morocco, elaborately tooled sides and inside borders. Rare engraving of Cincinnati in 1810 by Cutler inserted.

 Excessively rare. The first history of Cincinnati. Only three copies are known to be in existence. The author printed a small number only for presents to his friends. It was issued in two parts; the first twenty-eight pages were published about May, 1810, and the remainder about August of the same year.

The work is divided into five divisions, as follows: I, Topography; II, Geology; III, Climate; IV, Condition of the Town; V, Diseases. The Appendix gives: I, Colombo Root; II, New Diseases. It is generally supposed that the matter contained in "Notices Concerning Cincinnati," was incorporated by Mr Drake in his "Picture of Cincinnati," published in 1815, and that the latter was an enlargement of the former This is erroneous, as the matter contained in the two works is entirely different. This is the first copy ever offered at public sale.

204 DRAKE (Daniel). Natural and Statistical View, or Picture of Cincinnati and the Miami Country. Illustrated by Maps. With an Appendix, containing observations on the late Earthquakes, the Aurora Borealis and South-west Wind.

205 DRAKE (Daniel). Geological Account of the Valley of the Ohio: In a letter from Daniel Drake, M. D., to Joseph Correa de Serra. 7th Nov., 1818.

4*to. Half calf.*

 A curious paper, not only for its facts, but for the ingenious speculations of the author in attempting to account for certain geological phenomena in the Western Country. His paper is accompanied with a profile of the Valley of the Ohio, running traversely across the river at Cincinnati, and indicating the alluvial formations on each bank of the river at that place.

Printed for the People, 1812.

12mo, pp. 94. Half green morocco, g. t.

A scarce work. We can trace but two copies. It relates entirely to the controversy between the militia companies in Washington County, Ohio.

308 HARVEY (Henry). History of the Shawnee Indians, from the year 1681 to 1854, inclusive. By Henry Harvey: member of the Religious Society of Friends. Cincinnati, 1855.

16*mo*, pp. 316 and portrait. Yellow levant mor., g. t.

 One of the most valuable works to the students of Ohio and Indian History, and one of the most simple and truthful narratives ever written. The author is very earnest in the task he has undertaken, and a perusal of the work can not but leave upon the mind of the reader a feeling of attachment for this people, and of commiseration and lasting sympathy for the wrongs inflicted upon them by the English.

309 HATCH (William Stanley). A Chapter of the History of the War of 1812 in the North-West. Embracing the Surrender of the Northwestern Army and Fort, at Detroit, August 16, 1812. Cincinnati, 1872.

16*mo*, pp. 156. Half blue calf, m. e.

 This unpretending little volume is quite an interesting addition to the history of the events referred to It deals mainly with the operations of General Hull, and his surrender, and gives additional facts in regard to the character and death of Tecumseh.

310 HAWLEY (Zerah). A Journal of a Tour through Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, the North part of Pennsylvania and Ohio. 312 HECKEWELDER (John). An Account of the History, Manners and Customs of the Indian Nations, who once inhabited Pennsylvania and the neighboring States. Philadelphia, 1819.

8*vo*, portrait and pp. l,+iv+465. Half brown levant mor., g. t., uncut, by Pawson & Nicholson.

 Mr. Heckewelder's contributions to the History of the Indian Nations, particularly those of the Delaware stock, have been among the most curious and valuable of the materials which have contributed to found the modern science of Ethnography; while his comments have occasionally been of service in the almost equally recent but widely extended and laborious study of Comparative Philology.

Fisher, 1866, $15 63; Field, 1875, $10.50; Menzies, 1876, $12.75.

313 HECKEWELDER (John). A Narrative of the Mission of the United Brethren among the Delaware and Mohegan Indians, from its commencement, in the year 1740, to the close of the year 1808. Comprising all the Remarkable Incidents which took place at their Missionary Stations during that period Interspersed with Anecdotes, Historical Facts, Speeches of Indians and other interesting matter. Philadelphia, 1820.

8vo, pp. xii—429+Errata 1 p., and portrait of Zeisberger. Half brown levant mor., g t., uncut, uniform with the above.

 This work, which covers a space of sixty-eight years, from the first commencement of the Moravian labors among the red men to the death of the venerable Zeisberger, must still be considered, in a historical point of view, as one of the standard records of the times. Mr. Heckewelder was an eye-witness of a great proportion of what he relates, and had the best opportunities of acquiring information. Of his honesty, too, those who have read his unassuming work, can entertain no doubt; he represents things as they were without any attempt at coloring or ornamentation.

Fisher, 1866, $11.00; Boon, 1870, $21 00; Field, 1875, $11 00; Menzies, 1879, $10 50.

316 HERSY (Thomas). Clericus, Esculapius and Scepticus vs. Col. M. Jewett and his Chemical Preparations. In two parts. Comprising in the first, The Clergyman Examined. In the second, The examination continued in a detailed Report of the recent Trial of Col. Jewett and his Medicine before a Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Columbus, Ohio. With occasional Illustrations and Pleadings before the bar of an impartial Community. Columbus, Ohio, 1835.

 Sets forth the troubles of Rev John Miller, for having signed his name to a certificate in "Jewett's Advertiser," page 11, stating that his daughter Nancy had been cured of "scald head" by the use of "Jewett's Cerate," Nos. 1 and 2. The book is rare, the only other copy we can trace is in the Ohio State Library.

366 JACOB (J. G.) The Life and Times of Patrick Gass, now Sole Survivor of the Overland Expedition to the Pacific under Lewis and Clark, in 1804–5–6; also a Soldier in the War with Great Britain, from 1812 to 1815, and a participant in the Battle of Lundy's Lane. Together with Gass' Journal of the Expedition condensed; and sketches of some events occurring during the last century in the Upper Ohio Country. Wellsburg, Va., 1859.

12*mo*, pp. viii—280, portrait and 3 plates. Half olive mor., g. t.

 This book is of more interest and importance than the title indicates. Pages 195-280 are devoted entire to the Civil History of the Upper Ohio, and contain historical sketches and biographical reminiscences of the early settlers from original sources, few of which can be found elsewhere.

367 [JACOB (John J.)] Biographical Sketch of the Life of the late Capt. Michael Cresap.

Cumberland, Md.: Printed for the author, by F. M. Buchanan. 1826.

16*mo*, pp. 124. Polished calf, gilt edges. Contains several autographs of the Cresap family.

 The original edition; excessively rare. Jacob was an intimate friend of Captain Cresap, and the first to raise his voice in his vindication of the charge of having murdered Logan's family. Cresap was made an object of hatred, by Jefferson's publication of Logan's speech, in the Appendix of his "Notes on Virginia," but he has not lacked warm and active defenders, who have fully vindicated his memory. Cresap died of fever in New York, on the 18th of October, 1775, at the early age of 33, and was buried in Trinity Church yard 381 JONES (David). A Journal of Two Visits made to some Nations of Indians on the West side of the River Ohio, in the Years 1772 and 1773. By the Rev. David Jones, Minister of the Gospel at Freehold in New Jersey.

Burlington, printed and sold by Isaac Collins, 1774.
8*vo*, introduction pp. iv+94. Paneled calf, gilt edges, by R. W. Smith.

 The original edition, excessively rare. The missionary efforts of David Jones were directed chiefly at the Shawnees and Delawares, whom he visited in 1772-3. The details of these journeys comprise the contents of the volume, and form an interesting account of the manners, customs, language, and religious belief of the Indians. One of his companions, while navigating the Ohio in a canoe from Fort Pitt, was the celebrated George Rogers Clark. Mr. Jones was appointed chaplain in 1794 by General Wayne, and continued in service until peace was concluded.

 [The German Chronicle in the History of the Ohio Valley and especially its Capital city, Cincinnati.]

Said by competent judges to be an excellent and valuable work. It contains a large amount of original material relating to the settlement of Ohio, Cincinnati, and the various counties, giving a full account of the settlements made by the Germans, and a general history of the State. Almost the entire edition of this book was destroyed by fire, and it is now very scarce.

8*vo*, pp. xiii+534+Note, 1 page unnumbered. Claret levant morocco, inside borders, gilt edges, by Smith.

⁂ A valuable work. Very scarce. It is the original authority from which later writers borrowed freely It narrates, in detail, the causes of the war—Hull's Campaign—Harrison's Campaign Battle of Lake Erie—and all the incidents of the War of 1812 in Ohio and the Northwest Territory are given with great minutiæ of detail.

451 [McBRIDE (James).] Symmes's Theory of Concentric Spheres; Demonstrating that the Earth is Hollow, Habitable Within and Widely Open about the Poles. By a citizen of the United States.

Cincinnati: Printed by Morgan, Lodge & Fisher, 1826.

16*mo*, pp. 168. Red levant morocco, gilt top.

⁂ Very Scarce. Captain John Cleves Symmes, the originator of the above theory, was a nephew of the Hon. John Cleves Symmes, who made the first settlement between the Miami rivers at North Bend.

According to Capt. Symmes, the earth is composed of at least five hollow concentric spheres, with spaces between each, and habitable as well upon the concave as the convex surface. Each of these spheres is widely open about the poles. The objections and difficulties which lie in the way of this theory are met with answers and solutions which are highly ingenious, and sometimes apparently conclusive.

Philadelphia: Printed by James Chattin, 1757.

12mo, pp. iv+338. Half brown levant morocco, g. t., by Smith.

⁂ Very rare This work is of the greatest interest, as it gives us, from original sources, valuable information in regard to the French Claims on the Ohio River. We find Trent, Croghan, Stobo and Washington mentioned on almost every page. Pp. 124–173 give the "Journal of Major Washington," with amusing notes and comments by the French author, who evidently was not a believer in the story of Washington's truthfulness, for he uses the note "atrocious lie" on several occasions. Pp 185–191 give a translation of a letter written by Robert Stobo, at Fort Du Quesne, who was one of the hostages given for a faithful performance of the Capitulation granted to the English Troops, commanded by Major Washington. The entire work relates to the contested French Territory in America, especially that lying on the Ohio river.

488 METCALFE (Samuel L.) A Collection of some of the Most Interesting Narratives of Indian Warfare in the West, containing an account of the Adventures of Colonel Daniel Boone, one of the first settlers of Kentucky—Also, an account of the Manners and Customs of the Indians, their Traditions and Religious Sentiments, their Police or Civil Government, their Discipline and method of War; to which is added, an account of the expeditions of Gen'ls Harmer, Scott, Wilkinson, St. Clair, and Wayne.

Lexington, Ky.: Printed by William G. Hunt, 1821.

8vo, pp. 270+Errata 5 lines. Sprinkled calf extra, gilt edges, by W. Pratt.

⁂ RARE. This is a compilation, principally from available sources, of the narratives which, in their original form, had, even at the date of its publication, become scarce or difficult to procure. But every succeeding year brings with it an augmentation of the price at which it is sold. It has in turn become as rare as the works it sought to preserve from oblivion. The narratives relate principally to the "Dark and Bloody Ground," "Dr. Knight and John Slover's Narratives," which give an account of the death of Col. Crawford. "Adventures of Jackson Johonnot," "Harmer's Defeat," "General Wilkinson's Expedition," "St. Clair's Defeat," "Wayne's Campaign" and "Col. James Smith's Captivity."

24mo, pp. 96. Polished calf, gilt top, uncut, by F. Bedford.

⁂ This scarce volume contains a record of interesting incidents connected with the formation of the Wyandott Mission, through the agency of John Stewart. This remarkable man was a negro, born in Powhatan county, Virginia; he believed that he was called by Divine authority to preach the Gospel to the Pagan Indians of the Northwest. He made his way through the wilderness from Marietta on foot, without guide or knowledge of the country, and scarcely knowing when his journey was to end. He arrived among the Wyandotts at Upper Sandusky during the progress of one of their savage feasts, and gained their good will by his fervent manner and mild zeal.

8 vols., 8vo, uniformly bound. Half brown mor., g. t., uncut edges.

I. An Historical account of the Expedition against the Ohio Indians, in the year 1764, under the command of Henry Bouquet. By Dr. William Smith.

II. History of Athens County, Ohio, and incidentally of the Ohio Land Company, and the first settlement of the State, at Marietta. By Charles M. Walker.

III. Colonel George Rogers Clark's Sketches of his Campaign in the Illinois, in 1778–9.

IV. Pioneer Biography: Sketches of the lives of some of the early settlers of Butler County, Ohio. By James McBride. 2 vols.

V An account of the remarkable occurrences in the life and travels of Colonel James Smith, during his captivity among the Indians, in the years 1755–59.

VI. Pioneer Life in Kentucky: a series of reminiscential Letters addressed to his children. By Dr. Daniel Drake.

VII. Miscellanies: containing, 1, Memorandums of a tour in Ohio and Kentucky by Josiah Espy; 2, Two Western Campaigns in the War of 1812–13, by Samuel Williams; 3, The Leatherwood God.

542 OLDEN (J. G.) Historical Sketches and Early Reminiscences of Hamilton County, Ohio, Including a History of the Early Churches and of the Settlement of the neighboring towns. Together with Sketches of some of the early settlers of the Millcreek Valley. Cincinnati, 1882.

6 parts (all that were published), 8vo. Paper.

543 OLDEN Time (The); A Monthly Publication, devoted to the Preservation of Documents and other Authentic Information in relation to the Early Explorations and the Settlement and Improvement of the Country around the Head of the Ohio. Edited by Neville B. Craig, Esq. Pittsburgh, 1846. Cincinnati, 1876.

2 vols., 8*vo: vol.* 1, pp. 582; vol. 2, pp. 580. Sheep.

 A reprint of the original edition of this valuable, and heretofore rare work. Mr. Craig, in editing this work, instead of undertaking the task of the Historian, by forming, from the documents in his possession, a connected history of the early struggles for the settlement and development of this portion of the West, wisely preferred to let the actors speak for themselves.

544 OLDFIELD (J.) "'Tother Side of Ohio," or a Review of a "Poem in Three Cantos." Hartford, 1863.

16*mo*, pp. 40. Half green calf, g. t.

 The work to which the above is an answer, seems to have been a description in verse of the "pleasant land of Ohio." In his answer, the author portrays the country in the darkest colors, and points out the disadvantages and effects of emigration on the happiness of those who leave their homes for a wilderness. VERY SCARCE

545 OUR Acre and its Harvest. Historical Sketch of the Soldiers' Aid Society of Northern Ohio, Cleveland Branch of the United States Sanitary Commission. Cleveland, 1869.

549 [PAINE (Thomas).] Public Good, being an examination into the Claim of Virginia to the Vacant Western Territory, and of the Right of the United States to the Same. To which is added Proposals for laying off a new State, to be applied as a fund for carrying on the war, and redeeming the national debt. Albany, 1780.

8*vo*, pp. 38. Paper.

 A rare pamphlet, relating to the controversy between Virginia and the United States, in regard to the ownership of the Western Territory.

550 PALMER (T. H.) The Historical Register of the United States. Washington and Philadelphia: 1814–16.

4 vols., 8*vo*: vol. 1, pp. 226; vol. 2, pp. 351; vol. 3, pp. 328; vol. 4, pp. 354.

 Each volume contains a full Index, except vol. 2, which was published without it. This valuable magazine, which was published semi-annually, relates entirely to the war of 1812, and covers the period 1812–14, inclusive. It is a very complete collection of official documents of that period, which are so arranged as to show at one view, both the British and American statements. The historian of the War of 1812, in the Northwest, will find these volumes of the greatest service, containing, as they do, only the official documents. Complete sets are very scarce.

⁂ One of the scarcest works in the collection. The author recites his adventures as a soldier in the Revolution, and subsequent residence in Pennsylvania. He was among the first settlers that came to Fort M'Intosh; was a soldier under St. Clair, and dug the first well in Cincinnati, at Fort Washington. Owing to his success in finding water, he was known among the early settlers as the "Water Witch." The plates—a curiosity in themselves—represent "John R. Shaw as a Prodigal," "John R. Shaw as a Soldier," etc.

There is no record of a copy having been sold at public sale.

⁂ Very scarce. An extraordinary case, under the Fugitive Slave Act. Wellington is located thirty-six miles southwest of Cleveland; Oberlin is nine miles north of Wellington. In January, 1856, a negro slave, called John, was missing from a plantation in Mason county, Kentucky. In August, 1856, a friend of the owner recognized John at Oberlin, and with the aid of friends from Kentucky arrested him with the intention of taking him back. They took him to Wellington, where he was rescued by a large body of persons from Oberlin and Wellington--hence the title.

Together with the remarkable Journal of Christian Frederic Post, by whose Negotiations, among the Indians on the Ohio, they were withdrawn from the Interest of the French, who thereupon abandoned the Fort and Country. With notes by the Editor explaining sundry Indian Customs, &c. Written in Pennsylvania. London, printed for J. Wilkie, 1759.

 Rare. One of the principal causes of the hostility of the Pennsylvania Indians was the wicked craft practiced upon them by Governor Thomas Penn and other proprietors in 1737. Certain chiefs having been called together by the speculators two persons were found to testify that they were present at a council fifty years before, at which as much land was ceded to William Penn as a man could walk around in a day and a half. There was a chief living who could have proved this testimony false, but he was carefully kept in ignorance of the council, and by mean fraud, endless perjury and tempting gifts the deed was ratified. To locate as large a territory as possible, a trained pedestrian was employed, who was met at appointed stations by refreshments, and thus was enabled to traverse a route which cut off a million acres from the Indian territory. Less than one-third that quantity of land was the amount which the Indians had been led to expect would be ceded. Endless conferences and numerous councils were followed by bloody masacres. Robert Dinwiddie, Esq; His Majesty's Lieutenant-Governor, and Commander in Chief of Virginia, to the Commandant of the French Forces on Ohio. To which are added, the Governor's Letter: and a Translation of the French Officer's Answer, with a New Map of the Country as far as the Mississippi. Williamsburgh and London, 1754.

8vo, pp. 32 and map. Half morocco, g. t. Perfectly clean copy.

 Excessively rare. This, the earliest of Washington's diaries, printed almost as soon as its last page was written, possesses uncommon interest as being the first of Washington's official actions recorded in print, and from the fullness with which he describes the events of his journey.

He was then twenty-one years old. His earlier exploration as surveyor had brought him into contact with the Indians, and none seemed better to know and understand them; for this reason he was selected by Governor Dinwiddie to proceed to the Ohio, demand the withdrawal of the French, and examine the condition of their forces. This act opened a series of struggles, in the course of which English, French and Americans changed their relative positions, and which closed thirty years after with the gaze of mankind riveted on the august form of him whom we here behold a stripling.
